The New York Institution

From the Directors' Preface to the Annual Report

As required by law, the Directors of the New York Institution for the Instruction of the Deaf and Dumb, herewith present to the Legislature of the State of New York, the Annual Report for the year ending June 30th, 1921, being the one hundred and third of such continuous reports, and including the reports of the Principal and the Officers of the Institution, the report of the Committee on the Annual Examinations, and the usual financial statement attested by the Treasurer. This Institution was incorporated by Act of Legislature approved April 15th, 1817, and began instruction in May, 1818, which has continued without interruption during the long intervening period. During the year covered by this report there have been no radical changes and the Institution has fully maintained its high reputation. The number of pupils cared for has been 443—boys 276, and girls 167. It has pursued its time honored and thoroughly tested system of utilizing, and giving each pupil the benefit of all methods of instruction, oral and visual. This is applied to the capacities of the individual pupils, and supplemented by manual training in the trades schools—such as printing, carpentering, painting, etc., for the boys, and dressmaking, cooking, and similar occupations for the girls—so that on graduation they will have a means of earning a livelihood. As an illustration, our Annual Reports are printed by the pupils in our trade school. The result of this in the past has been that a great proportion of our pupils become self supporting immediately after graduation and remain so. The system of military drill for the boys, which includes wearing of a military uniform, and a uniform costumes for the girls, has been continued in connection with suitable athletic exercises carefully supervised. Military drill, introduced more than twenty years ago and continually used since, has proved of great benefit in connection with discipline and training in the Institution. The boys' battalion has become wonderfully proficient in drill, and in connection with the military band makes a showing which must be seen to be appreciated. The instruction and training given in the Institution, both mental and physical, has been proven a success by the fact that of nearly five thousand individual pupils, instructed in the past hundred years, all but an insignificant number have become self-supporting and useful citizens.

The directors desire to call the attention of the Legislature to the financial condition of the Institution. During the war period, and for a considerable time thereafter, there was a constant increase in the cost of everything necessary for carrying on the work of the Institution, and although there has been during the last year a reduction in the cost of clothing and certain supplies, yet in many cases cost of supplies has been little if any reduced. One principal item of expense, salaries of officers and teachers and wages of help, which were inevitably considerably raised in order to retain those of the necessary experience, still remains and apparently must remain at the highest level reached. The Legislature has generously increased the per-capita allowance in order to meet the conditions referred to, but in spite of this and of the utmost economy, the result has been a series of annual deficits.

For the year ending June 30, 1922, a large deficit is anticipated and indeed seems inevitable, in spite of most rigid economies now being exercised. It has been only the private funds resulting from benefactions and advantageous sales of certain portions of the real estate purchased about seventy years ago, and not now necessary for Institution uses, that have enabled the Institution to continue its work. These funds have been held separate from other funds of the Institution, set aside as Real Estate and Building Fund, for the purpose of maintaining the existing plant of the Institution and making necessary additions thereto, and in view of possible future removal. But in order to pay the Institution bills for the period referred to, it has been not only necessary to utilize the income of this fund, but to sell securities and use a very considerable portion of this capital fund to meet actual deficits in current operating expenses. The Legislature must recognize that this is not a fair proposition, and that the per-capita allowance should be increased to at least cover running expenses, and the directors think it only fair to ask also that at least the capital depreciation should be reimbursed to the Institution. The Legislature must remember that the entire splendid plant of the Institution, owned by it, free and clear, as also its income-producing real estate and building fund, have not come from the State in any way; the land, buildings, furniture, trades school machinery and apparatus, hospital equipment, teaching equipment, etc., all have been provided from our private funds. A recent appraisal of our buildings and furniture, for insurance purposes, places their value at about $900,000. The value of our land can be conservatively stated at least $1,100,000. And so this plant, valued at over $2,000,000, is used as part of the State system of education, free of cost.

During the year, the Institution has sustained a heavy loss in the death of its President, General Francis V. Greene, who became a director in May, 1919, was elected President of the Board of Directors, and died on May 15th, 1921, after twenty-eight years of service to the Institution. Throughout this entire period he was active and devoted in its councils, and occupying through life a commanding position in public affairs, his services were of the greatest benefit to the Institution. His military experience and career enabled him to appreciate the benefits of military organization in the Institution in connection with which he was an important factor, both in inaugurating this system and carrying it to its present high degree of efficiency. His relations with the Board of Directors were most intimate and friendly, and he was instrumental in carrying forward the work of the institution on its high plane of success during a very trying period. He was accorded a funeral with military honors from Grace Church, New York, and lies interred in the Arlington Cemetery at Washington. Mr. Samuel R. Betts, of New York City, who had been a member of the Board of Directors for twenty-three years, and successively Secretary and Vice-President, was elected

Bird's Eye View of Institution Buildings.

President of the Institution to succeed General Greene. During the year, Mr. Stuyvesant Fish, Jr., resigned as a member of the Board, and Mr. Leroy King was re-elected a member. It can truly be said that we have a harmonious board of directors, devoted and experienced in connection with the affairs of the Institution.

A fundamental feature of the Institution is that it is non-sectarian. Its pupils represent many branches of the Christian as well as the Hebrew faith, but it is emphatically a Christian Institution in the broad sense of that word, inculcating belief in God and the highest type of morality, as fundamental principles. Its teachers and pupils are free to worship in accordance with their various religious beliefs, or to attend the non-sectarian religious services conducted within the Institution every Sunday. As always in the past, the Board of Directors desires here to make acknowledgment of the blessings which Almighty God has bestowed upon this Institution, and prays that the Board may be guided and helped in its philanthropic work for those deprived of speech and hearing.

SILENT ATHLETIC CLUB BANQUET.

The Third annual banquet of the Silent Athletic Club was held June 11th, at Kugler's Cafe. The affair, which, by the way, is an annual one, was under the general direction of John A. Roach, whose specialty is best man at weddings and chairman of banquet committees.

To say the least, the affair was a humming success. A very satisfactory menu was served, which ran as follows:

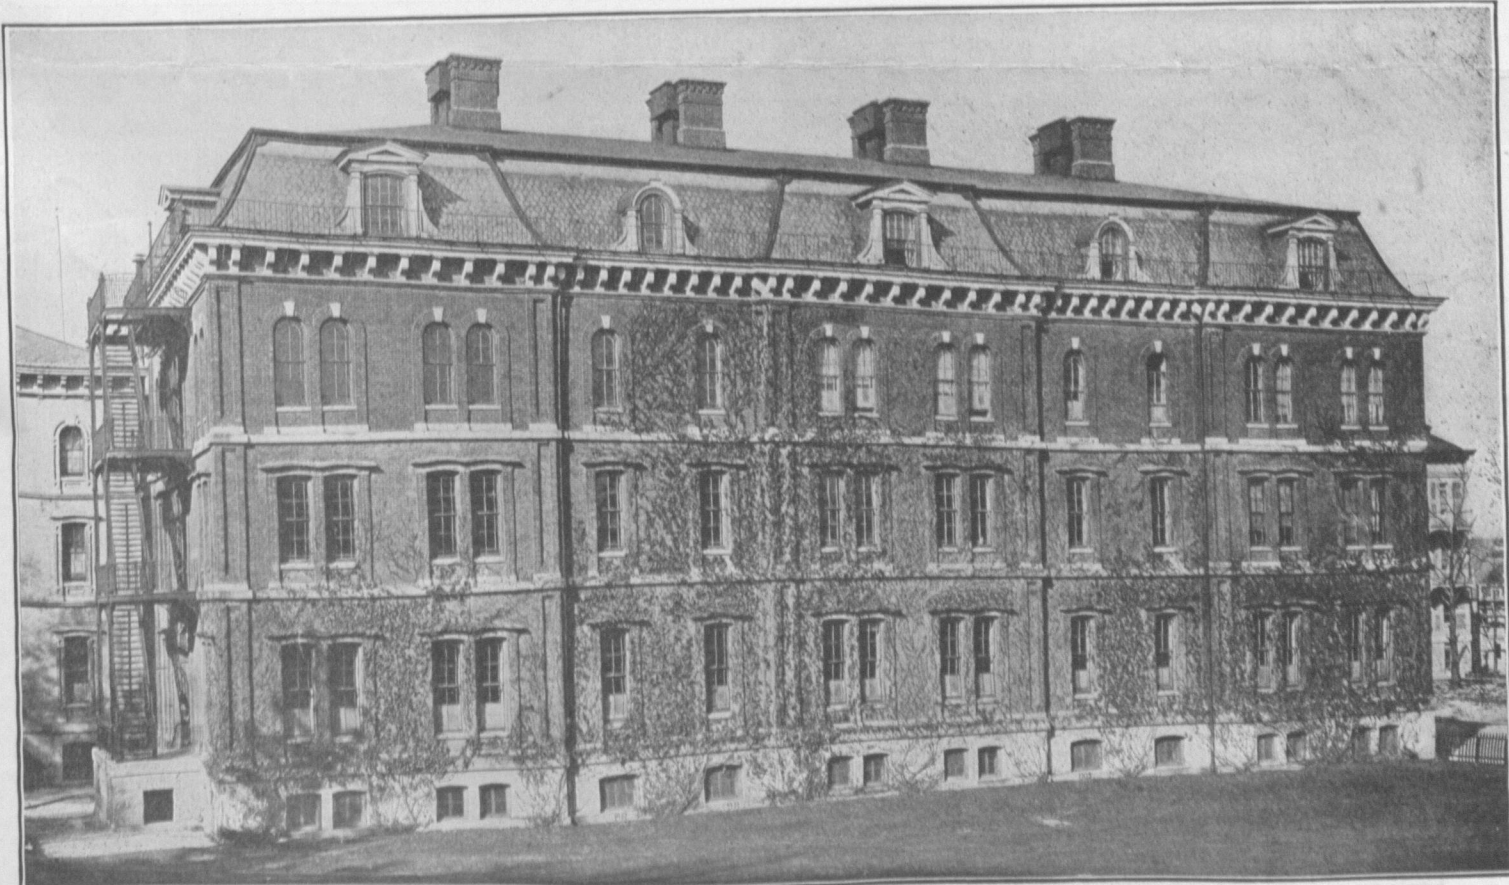

Fruit Cocktail, Vanderbilt	Little Lima Beans
Salted Almonds	Stuffed Olives	Midjet Radishes
Cold Tomato Bouillon	Baked Fresh Delaware Shad
Sirloin Steak
Potatoes Perisillade	Romaine Salad	Russian Dressing
Strawberry Ice-Cream		Mixed Fancy Cakes
	Demi Tasse

After the tables had been cleared away, the toastmaster, none other than the robust Joseph Donohue, introduced the principal speaker, Joseph A. Brady, Secretary of the Local Division of the N. F. S. D. The introduction, however, was not necessary, as Joe is one of the big men, though built close to the ground, among the deaf in Philadelphia. For his subject he spoke on "Us-We-Ours." It was a very interesting talk mixed with many humorous remarks. Frank J. Kuhn spoke on "Our Club," and Hugh J. Cusack, the Prodigal Son, on "My Observations." James Jennings' "Odds and Ends" threw the guests into fits of laughter.

S. A. C. JOTTINGS.

At the convention and exposition of the Good Housekeepers held recently in one of the armories, George H. King, one of the newlyweds, was there. But, be gorrah, I cannot see what John A. Roach was doing there.

With the failure of the ball team to materialize, Jennings and Robinson are playing a bang-up game for the twenty-eighth ward team. Dugan and Cusack, two other mainstays, are holding their own with Coughland.

7. Graduating Essay with Valedictory Address, Meyer Lifshutz.

Following the recent World War, we have seen many strange changes coming over things. There seems to be more crime and cruelty, more forgetfulness of right, more inclination to wrong. People are wondering if civilization is going backward. And generally there is a feeling of fear and uncertainty. We see the nations of Europe struggling to get on their feet. We see in our own country many signs of pain and trouble, in differences between capital and labor. This inclines some people to become disheartened. They believe there is something wrong in our government. They fear we are not making the progress we should.

But all this is a mistaken idea. Our government is all right. We can not expect that after such an awful struggle the world will resume its proper trend all at once. There must be time for things to come back at least to the point held before the war. Our people will come through present difficulties. It seems that America will finally have to help Europe to get on her feet again. We have had a terrible lesson taught by this war. It proves how useless it is to allow ambition to overcome common sense. It seems so absurd that the blind fury of one nation should bring woe and poverty on so many other nations and peoples. Will this lesson lead people to stop and consider before they plunge nations into armed conflicts? Will it teach us all that right and justice will always prevail, and that God still lives and rules? This should be the warning and the guide for people and nations alike, for what has happened has been the outcome of ambition and injustice on the part of rulers who should have known better. They have been punished, but unfortunately in their punishment the innocent have also suffered more or less. Still there is no need to be disheartened. On a rainy day the clouds obscure the sun, but we know that this is only temporary. And so with wrong and injustice, they will last only for a time; we may still confidently hope that truth and honest dealing will finally bring happiness and peace to a sorely tried world. And we may also expect that the lesson which time has taught us will have only good effects. It will serve as a guide and a help for the future.

VALEDICTORY ADDRESS

To the Board of Directors:—The Graduating Class of 1922 would express its thanks to you all for the benefits you have afforded us in the way of education. This Institution could not accomplish all the good it is continually doing without the careful consideration you give to its management. It is your general oversight that advances its interests in every way. It is your loving interest that keeps pace with necessary improvement and helps to make the school so prominent and so successful. In saying good-bye to you, we give you our sincere thanks.

To our beloved Principal, Teachers and Officers:—We are grateful to you, dear Principal, for the care and help given us in our efforts toward mental education and trade instruction. We know that you always have our interests in your heart and mind, and are ever anxious to afford us whatever help you possibly can. Our teachers also have been patient, kind and loving, with us. We thank you for your encouragement. We appreciate what you have done for us, dear Principal and teachers, and will not

"FANWOOD"

Sung to the tune of "Boola, Boola."

Fanwood, dear old Fanwood,
We are grieving,
Cause we're leaving,
We are grateful for your teaching
And we'll love you
Evermore.

Fanwood, dear old Fanwood,
We are singing,
Praises ringing,
We shall never find your equal.
Dear old Fanwood,
Long life to you!

The Class Ivy.

On Thursday afternoon the Class Ivy was dedicated with appropriate ceremony.

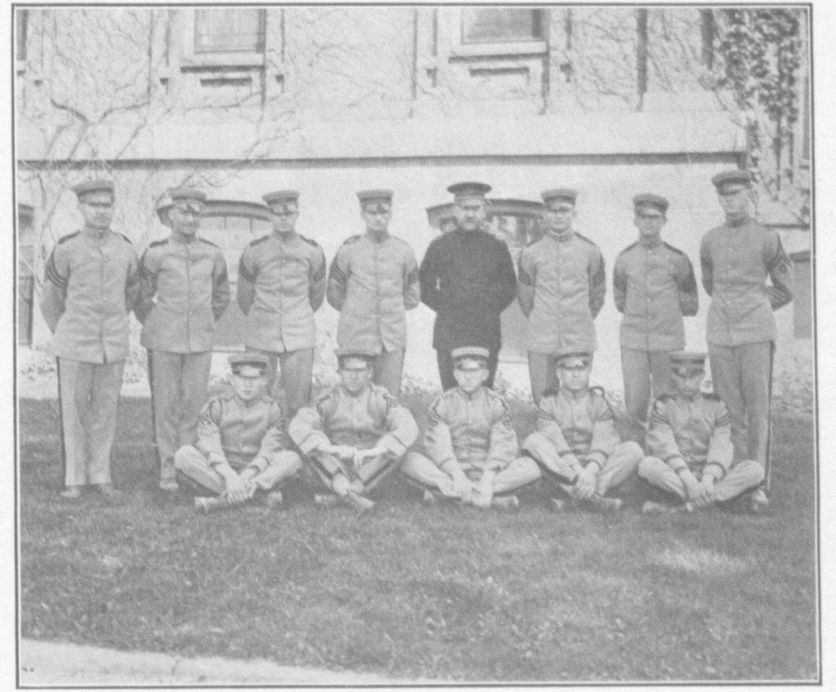

At three o'clock the graduates of 1922 marched to the Principal's office and received the customary encouragement and advice.

Then, headed by the Band and escorted by the Battalion, the procession, with Principal Gardner and Dr. Fox leading, followed by the graduating class and teaching staff, wended its way to the southeast corner of the Academic Building.

Principal Gardner made a brief speech, and then Emil Mulfeld, the Ivy Orator, made the subjoined address:

IVY ORATION

Dear Principal, Teachers, Classmates and Schoolmates: We have assembled here to observe the time-honored custom of "Ivy Day." We thus are at the beginning of the end of the school year. It is with mixed feelings that we who are about to graduate look on this scene. This has been our home as well as our school for so many years that it will be hard to tear ourselves away. We have had here so much of thought work to bring honor and glory to Old Fanwood, our beloved Alma Mater.

We all bid you good-bye.

Several addresses were made by the teachers present, and the ceremonies were concluded.

In the evening the annual "party," with refreshments and dancing, was given in honor of the graduating class.

The Baccalaureate Sermon was preached by Rev. William Carter, D.D., of the Throop Avenue Presbyterian Church, Brooklyn, on Sunday, June 18th, in the Chapel, Principal Gardner interpreting. A goodly number of graduates and friends of the pupils were in attendance.

The final dress parade of the year followed on the quadrangle where the boys play, and which makes such a fine parade ground.

Chicago.

The Rev. Philip J. Hasenstab is welcoming all and sundry to his Sunday afternoon services in temporary quarters at the Grace M. E. Church, La Salle Street near Chicago Avenue. He has turned the entire "building fund" of his congregation into the coffers of those erecting the massive M. E. Citadel on the loop site of the old M. E. Building, and as a consequence plans call for a private chapel in the building to be his perpetual ly.

The Evening American of the 12th says: Construction on the Evangelical Lutheran Church of Our Savior for the Deaf, an institution in which all services will be conducted in sign language, began today. The corner-stone was laid yesterday, the Rev. A. C. Dahms, pastor of the congregation, interpreting the speakers' words for the deaf who attended. The church is at Hirsch Street and Ridgeway Avenue. It is expected to cost $25,000 and to be finished by September 1st.

Miss Roberta Graves, with her broken arm yet in a sling, was able to leave Wesley hospital and sing a solo at the Rev. Hasenstab's services on the 12th. At that, her one-arm-solo excelled many we have seen others render with two arms and a full complement of facial gymnastics.

Mrs. Wm. O'Neil was tendered a small birthday party at the Meaghers' on the 6th. The usual cake and ice-cream hand-out at All Angels' the next night.

Gordon Ford Gray was baptized by Rev. Hasenstab June 8th, when the Tom Grays stood for him. May 7th little Jean Schriver was baptized. Jean liked the process so much she kept gurgling "Mo' Watah; mo' watah."

Floyd Bowman, Beardstown, has come to the same "home" Geary is. Reason: very bad eyes, is learning broom-making.

Claude Russell has posted attractive hand-painted signs in the various clubs, advertising the cad and frat picnics.

Thirty ladies and many gifts featured an excellent shower at All Angels' parish house June 10th. Mrs. Ashley Mickenham gave it for Mrs. Lester Hagemeier.

John D. Sullivan, the peppy power behind the Sac, decides to skim the cream off the throng drawn by the annual Home Fund picnic, Labor Day. For the two days previous he has staged a big athletic smoker in the Sac (Saturday), and a big field day somewhere out in the country Sunday. Fine prizes, says Sully.

Frank B. Pleasant closed his first year as printing instructor at the Wisconsin School on the 14th, then he and wife drove their car for St. Paul and the north. Governor J. J. Blaine spoke at the commencement exercises, it is said. Pleasant expects to hit Chicago for Labor Day.

VI. "America," recited in signs by the Choir and sung by the audience.

My country 'tis of thee,
Sweet land of liberty,
Of thee I sing;
Land where my fathers died!
Land of the Pilgrim's pride!
From every mountain side
Let freedom ring.

My native country, thee,
Land of the noble free—
Thy name I love;
I love thy rocks and rills,
Thy woods and templed hills;
My heart with rapture thrills,
Like that above.

Our fathers' God! to thee,
Author of liberty,
To thee we sing;
Long may our land be bright
With freedom's holy light;
Protect us by thy might,
Great God, our King.

VIII. Benediction.

OHIO.

[News items for this column may be sent to our Ohio News Bureau, care of Mr. A. B. Greener, 993 Franklin Ave., Columbus, O.]

June 10, 1922.—With the Baccalaureate Sermon to the Graduating Class, last Sunday, marked the beginning of the school year, 1921-22. Rev. B. F. Brundage, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of this city, was the speaker. The main point in his address was: I do not consider you handicapped people. Rather I consider you equipped with emphasis, wherever you go in the world, if you do anything well it will stand out as a real accomplishment. He gave a number of illustrations of the word "handicapped," and his talk was very interesting.

Examinations came Monday and Tuesday.

Wednesday evening was given over to the annual banquet to the Graduating Class. This year, it was a sort of family gathering for only the class, and those whose relatives were here and teachers of the school were invited. There were three others, Dr. Patterson, daughter, Mrs. Charles Bond, of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Miss Deborah Evans, of this city, former matron of the school. On former occasions such affairs were largely attended, and after the feasting came a number of addresses by chosen persons.

This time there were but two addresses after the feasting was over, both short and interesting—viz.: "The Two Great Republics," by Miss Monnier, Teacher of French, Columbus School for Girls, and "The Disarmament Conference," by John Vorys, a son of a neighbor of the school, taking a law course in Ohio State University.

There was a reception to the class in the B Center Hall, before the feasting began.

The banquet hall was tastefully arranged, tables forming a square with one in the center occupied by Superintendent and Mrs. Jones, the two speakers, Dr. Patterson and daughter, and the two teachers of the High School, Messrs. Odebrecht and Read. Ornamented placards were at each cover, and the menu all that could be desired and well served.

Thursday afternoon was a holiday for the pupils, and in the evening came the commencement exercises. The chapel stage setting was beautiful with the Stars and Stripes as a background, on the sides and overhead a forest scene with potted plants bordering the front. Upon it were seated the class in a circle, Messrs. Odebrecht and Read, the speakers of the evening.

The following program was carried out:

INVOCATION—Dr. J. T. Britain.

SONG—"My Faith Looks Up to Thee," Ruth McCauley accompanied by Volunteer Choir.

SALUTATORY—Clarence Hill.

SONG—"Star Spangled Banner," Margaret Cannon, Anna Miller, accompanied by Volunteer Choir.

VALEDICTORY—Oleta Brothers.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION OF DIPLOMAS—Dr. H. S. Macayeal, Director of Welfare.

SCHOOL SONG—Constance Clippinger, Mary Jones, Victoria Godzintowski, accompanied by Volunteer Choir and Pupils.

BENEDICTION—Dr. J. T. Britain.

There was no hitch in the delivery of the Salutatory and Valedictory and both speakers signed their parts well.

Dr. Macayeal before presenting the members of the class their diplomas made an address. He said he was drafted by the Governor to assume the post he holds and like a good soldier he obeyed, though the responsibility of taking charge of twenty-three institutions of the state seemed great. Ohio is a great state, and if the people want their institutions to be best in the country they should also be willing to make proper outlays to have them become so. It is his ambition that the state's wards shall have all the necessities that tend to advancement. The word "Asylum" is no longer used; in its place we have school for the deaf and hospital for the insane.

After presenting the diplomas he told the members of the class they should not forget the school after leaving it, but to visit it frequently, and they would always be welcomed.

The songs on the program were rendered vocally and in signs most gracefully by the young ladies.

GRADUATES.

High School:—Olesa Brothers, Margaret Elizabeth Cannon, Clarence Ernest Hill, Anna Sarah Miller, Otto James Reinbolt, Frank Joseph Wondrack.

Intermediate Department:—Harlan Willis Eller, Myrtle Marie Brooks, Harry Eckart Coriell, Beatrice Elizabeth Enzor, Ivaline McKinnie, Milton Earl Neff, Viola Margaret Riddlebaugh.

Mrs. John E. Dwyer and her little grandson, of Springfield, Ohio, left Wednesday for Maryland to attend the Maryland Union of graduates and former pupils of the school for deaf at Frederick, Md.,

June 10th, 11th, and 12th. She will also visit her sisters, relatives and friends, in different sections of the above state.

Mr. George Kinkel, of the Home, was off on a visit to friends in Marion and Port Clinton, Ohio, rounding up in Columbus.

Miss Jane Campbell is back in Columbus from Arizona, where she passed the winter with relatives.

Mr. Louis Felick, of Cincinnati, Ohio, a former pupil of the Ohio School, died in a hospital there last Saturday. The funeral over the remains was held last Tuesday. He leaves an aged mother and two sisters. He was about fifty years old.

The net receipts from the Clonian Society's lawn fete were $26. Clifford Drake, of Canton, Ohio, was among the Commencement visitors.

MISS EDNA MEHLE, Chairlady.

AN INVITATION TO
The National Fraternal
Society of the Deaf
TO MEET IN DENVER
IN 1927

Read what Grand Secretary Gibson said in The Frat of May, 1918, on his visit to Denver, after an auto trip around the Look-out Mountain:—
"The scenery? Well, the delighted and enthralled visitor said what he thought of it, but to write it is a task beyond him—all the adjectives in his lexicon would be needed and the tale would be long. He can only say here that he hopes every one of his fraters will some day have the opportunity to see it for themselves."
So, remember Denver, 1927.
